

You can define custom email templates to be used in the user manager here. These are mainly welcome messages, or account information templates you would send to a user when you first create their account, or reset their password.